LYNNE COHEN

False Clues

GALLERY(IES): GALLERY 3 >

CURATOR(S): FRANÇOIS LETOURNEUX

FROM FEBRUARY 7, 2013 TO APRIL 28, 2013

This exhibition features forty photographs by Lynne Cohen, most of them recently produced. Since the early 1970s, Cohen has been using a view camera to photograph “found” interior spaces, always empty of occupants, which the works’ titles usually do not specifically identify. Over the years, interiors and public or semi-public places—skating rinks, dance halls, hotel lobbies, men’s clubs—have given way to more complex, less readily accessible environments, such as classrooms, science laboratories or military installations. Whatever the (sometimes ominous) nature of the places pictured, the artist underscores the humour, artifice and illusion that lie therein, documenting her fascination with how “the world echoes art.” Lynne Cohen is an American-born Canadian artist currently based in Montréal.
